LITTLE CAYMAN, CAYMAN ISLANDS, JULY 13, 2007: The Oceans for Youth Foundation have invited the Diveheart Foundation to join them for the 2007 Oceans for Youth Summer Camp for the Cognitively Impaired, to be held July 14-21 at Little Cayman Beach Resort in Little Cayman, Cayman Islands. Diveheart President and HSA (Handicapped Scuba Association) Instructor Trainer Jim Elliott will be training the Instructor staff of Reef Divers the week prior to the camp where the Oceans for Youth Summer Camp will be hosting six cognitively impaired young people this year. This trip is free for all participants, both kids and their parents.

The purpose of the Oceans for Youth Camp is to actively promote underwater education and an appreciation and respect for the oceans in today's youth. Participants will participate in swimming, snorkeling, scuba diving, sport fishing, marine identification, sailing and kayaking, and land excursions. The goals of the Oceans for Youth Camp are increased self-respect, independence and self-reliance, increased motor and communication skills, appreciation for the undersea world, and respect for our environment.

"Little Cayman Beach Resort is tremendously proud to be hosting such an important, heart-warming camp," said Nicholas Wilson, General Manager of Little Cayman Beach Resort. "These are both extraordinary foundations, and we are thrilled that they have selected Little Cayman Beach Resort and Reef Divers three years in a row for this one-of-a-kind camp. Watching the participants and parents progress through the week's camp is a moving experience, and we are very pleased to support it."

Reef Divers' Dive Operations Manager, Paul Tanner, echoed the sentiments. "The staff of Reef Divers is extremely dedicated to supporting the camp, and have devoted upwards of four hours a day of their own time to become HSA-certified Instructors. Reef Divers' commitment to continually offering one-of-a-kind dive services throughout the world is evidenced by our commitment and full sponsorship of all costs associated with the training and certification of our staff towards this goal. Working with the kids and parents throughout the camp is unlike anything one could imagine, and is a very rewarding experience for all of us."

About Oceans for Youth Foundation

The Oceans for Youth Foundation is a non-profit foundation designed to actively promote underwater education and an appreciation and respect for the oceans in today's youth. It is the foundation's belief that a young person introduced early to the wonders of the oceans will become much more environmentally aware, and practice lifelong attitudes of ocean conservation, preservation and protection. Using a nationwide force of concerned volunteers armed with a variety of educational tools, the Foundation funds and organises specific programs that help young people become more aware and interested in the aquatic environment.
